the SSd supported his light infantry. Alvintzy didn't suspect that I had arrived in the night. Our left was briskly attacked, it fell hack, and the enemy pushed in on our centre. The 14th held them up with great pluck.

On the 16th brave General Provera asked to surrender. The army of the Repuhlic has therefore in the space of four days made nearly £5,000 prisoners, taken £0 flags, 60 guns, and killed or wounded at least 6000 men. All our demi-brigades covered themselves with glory. It is said that the Roman legions could march £4 miles a clay; our brigades cover thirty, and do some fighting in between times.

lOtlu A regiment is never destroyed by the enemy* sir; it is immortalized!

20th. (To the Directoire.) I move 5000 men over the Po to-morrow, who will march straight on Rome. I Bend you II flags taken from the enemy in the battles of Ilivoli and La Favorita. Bensi&res, who will hand them to you* is a brave and distinguished officer* iid* (To Cacault, at Home.) CUaym At inter;* Pray leave Home »m hours after receiving this letter. They have made you stand endless humiliations; now you can leave*

(To Cardinal Mattel.) The words of peace with winch I